

Word	Part of Speech	Definition	Example Sentence	Synonym invention	noun	A new device, idea, or method created through imagination or skill	The telephone was a great invention that changed communication.	creation aid	noun/verb	(n.) Help or support; (v.) To give help	The volunteers provided aid to the flood victims.	help approach	noun/verb	(n.) A way of dealing with something; (v.) To move closer	The teacher used a new approach to explain the lesson.	method conflict	noun/verb	(n.) A disagreement or fight; (v.) To clash or disagree	The two countries are trying to solve the conflict peacefully.	dispute reliable	adjective	Able to be trusted or depended on	She is a reliable friend who always keeps promises.	trustworthy continuous	adjective	Without stopping; happening over a period of time	The rain was continuous for three days.	constant impact	noun/verb	(n.) A strong effect or influence; (v.) To affect strongly	Social media has a big impact on young people.	effect evolution	noun	The process of gradual development or change	The evolution of technology has made life easier.	development function	noun/verb	(n.) The purpose or role of something; (v.) To work or operate	The heart's function is to pump blood through the body.	role accurate	adjective	Correct, exact, and without mistakes	The map gives an accurate picture of the city.	exact / precise

Word	Part of Speech	Definition	Example Sentence	Synonym
patent	noun/verb	(n.) An official right given to an inventor to make or sell an invention; (v.) To get legal protection for an invention	She received a patent for her new software design.	license advantages	noun (plural)	Things that make a situation better or more useful	One of the advantages of exercise is better health.	benefits achievements	noun (plural)	Things successfully done through effort, skill, or courage	Winning the award was one of his greatest achievements.	accomplishments advances	noun (plural)/verb	(n.) Progress or improvements; (v.) To move forward	Medical advances have saved many lives.	progress significant	adjective	Important, meaningful, or noticeable	The discovery was a significant step in science.	important goal	noun	Something you aim to achieve	Her goal is to become a doctor.	aim / target