

Starting a new enterprise

| Word                | Definition   | Part of Speech | Example Sentence  | Synonyms                               | Other Forms / Parts of Speech                            |
|---------------------|--|----------------|---|--|--|
| enterprise   | A project, activity, or business that requires effort and planning.        | Noun           | The students started a recycling enterprise at school.    | business, project, venture             | Adjective: enterprising                           |
| commitment   | A promise or dedication to do something.                                   | Noun           | Her commitment to studying helped her improve her grades. | dedication, responsibility, obligation | Verb: commitAdjective: committed       |
| objective    | A goal or purpose that someone tries to achieve.                           | Noun           | Our main objective is to finish the project on time.      | goal, aim, target                      | Adjective: objective (meaning “fair, unbiased”)   |
| pursue       | To follow or try hard to achieve something.                                | Verb           | He decided to pursue a career in medicine.                | follow, chase, strive for              | Noun: pursuit                                     |
| priority     | Something that is more important than other things and must be done first. | Noun           | Safety is our top priority during the trip.               | importance, focus, preference          | Adjective: prioritizedVerb: prioritize |
| considerable | Large in amount, size, or importance.                                      | Adjective      | The project required a considerable amount of money.      | significant, substantial, great        | Adverb: considerably                              |